

Say My Name

Paradise Fears

The outer limits, she can dance with the sky,
Stars streak like bolts of lightning,
Write our names on the night,
Brown-eyed possibility,
You're more than I could ever need.

Twisting to the rhythm of the wind and the trees,
You and I could dance forever to the bend and the breeze,
Feel the ground start to move,
The tides start to turn,
My body, it burns.

When you say my name,
When you say my name.

The outer limits, she can dance with the sky,
Stars streak like bolts of lightning,
Write our names on the night,
'Cause your one step ahead feels like two steps behind,
You're waiting right there to hold me in line.

If you could be the author of my life,
To write your hand inside of mine,
You've got the spark that makes my soul ignite.
And no matter where I go,
You gotta know that I'm here to stay,
If you ever feel alone, all you gotta do is say my name.

When you say my name,
When you say my name.

When you say my name,
When you say my name,

When you say my name,
Oh, when you say my name.
