

Rise and fall beyond the law, beyond the danger
To rise above, command in blood
Rise and fall beyond the cause, beyond endangered
A call above, damned by war, damned by failure

The unstoppable threat bound to evolve
The unstoppable threat lost all control

Like a child in arms we dwell
You can turn the tide of dreams we've held
Like a child in arms we dwell
Who controls the mind that drifts to hell?

Rise and fall beyond the law beyond the danger
A call above, command in blood
Rise at dawn, beyond the law, beyond all hatred
A call above, damned by war, damned by nature

Like a child in arms we dwell
You can turn the tide of dreams we've held
Like a child in arms we dwell
Who controls the mind that drifts to hell?

Foolish tyrant compelled
Foolish tyrant repels

Like a child in arms we dwell
You can turn the tide of dreams we've held
Like a child in arms we dwell
Who controls the mind that drifts
Who controls the mind that drifts to hell?
