

Worth Fighting For

Paradise Lost

It's worth fighting for

Failing now I wonder, turn the other way
Fading down to under

Don't let me dream at all, don't let me sleep
Don't let me dream at all, there's something that's part of me
Must never be revealed, a rushing that just starts in me
It's never to be seen

It's worth fighting for
Fading down to under, turn the other way

Afraid and down I wander, damned & disobeyed

There's something that just starts in me,
It never can redeem
There's something that's regarding me, you never would believe
