Couldn't answer
Your question
Things that will disappear
Do I still mind it

With dirty
Sincerity
I sang a song
As much as I wanted

Like graffiti on the wallpaper
There are only traces left

In the beautiful world I dreamt of
There is no story of me
Full of running away
You said it to me
No, me in the mirror oppose

Looking back
All those moments
Were not Eternal

Vague emotions
Mixed together
I spit them out
There are

Ghosts of the past
That couldn't live in the same time
Where are they now

In the beautiful world I dreamt of
There is no story of me
Full of running away
You said it to me
No, me in the mirror oppose

Everyone wants me to disappear
To complete their own fantasy

I don't sing for you
I'm just one of the countless stars under the sky
If I take away the blue, what will you see from me?
Will I still remember the desperation, after I graduate twenty?

Only after falling
I learned to fly

After overcoming myself
I accepted myself

There must be a fall
To rise up again

After overcoming myself

I abandoned myself

Even if it's the same path
What you and me see is different
Changing
Is not meant to be sad
