Parcels

Show and you never will cover
What you own honey, you own well
Holding it out will be tougher
As I know honey, I know well
The thought is fulfilling a label
A token honey, token known
It's fake though I know that you're able
To see it honey, I see you well

We want closure
You're holding on tight when your life is on hold
Neither, I don't
I don't want to leave you alone
I'm talking my mind as I'm torn
On and on...

Recalling the exchanged words
What you own honey, you own well
The past is a world of retained hurt
As I know honey, I know well
You wonder the reason you changed for
A token honey, token known
Time will escape, you can be sure
To see it honey, I see you well
