

For What It's Worth

Pardylone

I'm ripping out all of the pages
'Cause I don't wanna talk when I'm anxious
I'm waiting 'til the sun goes down
Demons around, but I'm armed and dangerous
Your cigarette smell still on my blanket
Cover me with the memories I hated
But all I'm gonna say is "so what"

So what I don't wanna say goodbye and waste this night
But I don't have a choice this time with you
For what it's worth I'll fake a smile with faded eyes
But I wish that I could chase this high with you

Safe in my heart, tears fall in silence
Crash like the ocean while my hands are riding
Numb to the core, can't you see I'm breaking?
So why are we waiting to say goodbye?

So what I don't wanna say goodbye and waste this night
But I don't have a choice this time with you
For what it's worth I'll fake a smile with faded eyes
But I wish that I could chase this high with you

Don't know why it's important (Don't know why it's important)
And the words you said feeling foreign, foreign, yeah
I try to stay in the moment (I try to stay in the moment)
And I try to hide in the open (I try to hide in the open), open
, yeah

So what I don't wanna say goodbye and waste this night
But I don't have a choice this time with you
For what it's worth I'll fake a smile with faded eyes
But I wish that I could chase this high with you
