Pardyalone

I don't wanna make the same mistakes
Don't wanna take the blame again
Don't wanna make the same mistakes

Last night was the last time that I talked to you
But it's 2am in this hotel
And you haunt me now my phone dialing a call to you
Photographs and memories I don't want from you
Scratches on my chest dig a little deeper could've took my heart from it
Liquor still in my cup knowing that the devils gonna drink the rest of it
He tried to take my soul
But instead chose to try to take my head from me
I know I'm not who you want but I'm in a cold place in my feelings
I tried to hide but I can't run when the only person I'm running from is me

I don't wanna make the same mistakes
Don't wanna take the blame again
Don't wanna make the same mistakes

Same mistakes but I'm still drunk
Same mistakes that I'm still high
Same mistakes that I loved you so it's my issue why I'm crying
Dear Kelvin, your family loves you too so you should go tell them
Oh well then if you don't I guess I'll see you in hell
Same mistakes got me pissed off
Same mistakes I'm a loner
Same mistakes why I'm still up waiting for your ass to come over
Dear Kelvin, your family loves you too so you should go tell them
Oh well then if you don't I guess I'll see you in hell

I don't wanna make the same mistakes
I don't wanna take the blame again
I don't wanna make the same mistakes
