

Not Enough

Pardyalone

While you were sleeping
I painted the stars for you, at least my dreams did
I'm falling apart, hope you like broken pieces
I come with some scars that came from different reasons

Bitter as blood, I know I'm bruised
And I'll never leave, but I'll leave you confused

I'm fucking up love
'Cause all that I've ever been is not enough
All that I've ever been is not enough
Lookin' for happiness without the trust
All that I've ever been is not enough
I'm not afraid of loneliness
'Cause lonely comes, oh-woah
When all that you've ever been is not enough
All that I've ever been is not enough

You're my prescription
The prettiest pill but still you're my addiction
'Cause all that I've lived is years and bad decisions
I'll die on this hill, finish my bad religion

Bitter as blood, I know I'm bruised
And I'll never leave, but I'll leave you confused

I'm fucking up love
'Cause all that I've ever been is not enough
All that I've ever been is not enough
Lookin' for happiness without the trust
All that I've ever been is not enough
I'm not afraid of loneliness
'Cause lonely comes, oh-woah
When all that you've ever been is not enough
All that I've ever been is not enough

See, I try and I try (Ooh, ooh)
But this time I know I can't deny that you're my paradise
Been so high that I died in your eyes (Ooh, ooh)
And this time, it reminds me of what I sacrificed
See, I try and I try (Ooh, ooh)
But this time I know I can't deny that you're my paradise
Been so high that I died in your eyes (Ooh, ooh)
And this time, it reminds me of what I sacrificed
