

Read Your Mind

Pardyalone

And I can't read your mind, I love you when you're mine
Can we make up?
Your tears fell like raindrops, you hate when the rain stops
Oh, can we make up?
And your lips feel like Friday, turn my head sideways
With your halo
You're broken in silence, I saw you cry as I write this
You said the devil's got you now

I tried to help, you told me, "Stop it"
There's no point in trying to stop this
I guess I'll see you in hell

And I can't read your mind, I love you when you're mine
Can we make up?
Your tears fell like raindrops, you hate when the rain stops
Oh, can we make up?
And your lips feel like Friday, turn my head sideways
With your halo
You're broken in silence, I saw you cry as I write this
You said the devil's got you now

But when I woke up to you, I was drunk, and
You told me last night, we was fucking
It's kinda getting hard to be the superhero again
Without you and me, I need substance
I realize, without you, I'm nothing
Hate it when you say it's all my Fault that you always come around
I was doing better on my own (Oh)
Hate it when you say it's all my (Mm)
Fault, you don't love me now
I was doing better on my own

And I can't read your mind, I love you when you're mine
Can we make up?
Your tears fell like raindrops, you hate when the rain stops
Oh, can we make up?
And your lips feel like Friday, turn my head sideways
With your halo
You're broken in silence, I saw you cry as I write this
You said the devil's got you now
