

I found that you and me would never be together
Sorry I couldn't change your mind
And I found that me and you and you and me are better
Off on our sides
I'm far from perfect and I hate that
I told you that loving me is dangerous
And I know you can't read my mind
But I won't talk about my feelings when you not mine
My heart hurts, you're so cold
I still feel your hands cover my throat
While my tears fall, I know you'll whine
I guess it wasn't hard for you to move on

I don't wanna wait for you tonight
Giving up and giving my life to substance
And I don't wanna be here one more night
I'd probably kill myself 'cause I hate who I am
I just hope you know you're my kryptonite
I feel you in my veins when you not here
I try to run, but the devil's right behind
I guess I'll never be enough and it's not fair

Why, why, why, why, why, why, why, why, why?
Am I always being broke, hurt, or lied to?
Why, why, why, why, why, why, why, why, why?
I could've sworn that I really fuckin' liked you
Why, why, why, why, why, why, why, why, why?
Relationships are just something that you fine-tune
Why, why, why, why, why, why, why, why, why?
It's gonna suck when karma comes around and bites you

But who am I to judge?
Know I got a few loose screws, I'm a bit fucked up
Yeah, but who am I to trust you?
I lost my family too, yeah, they hate my guts
Why my mind so lustful?
Always in my head, can't pretend I don't care 'bout love
And in the times I don't want to
I'm always overthinking my brain, so you know I won't

I don't wanna wait for you tonight
Giving up and giving my life to substance
And I don't wanna be here one more night
I'd probably kill myself 'cause I hate who I am
I just hope you know you're my kryptonite
I feel you in my veins when you not here
