

Bittersweet Haze

Parks, Squares and Alleys

We were spaced like the desert isles
I went so down
I've been ghosting you for a while
It's haunting me now
I'm glad to be alone
So bad
I set you on your own
The drag
Of being safe and stoned
So I can't stand it anymore, oh

Waking up to start over
I wish I could get rid off this mess
I've just tried to feel something
Something more than to be possessed
Waking up to start over
In an attempt just to find my place
I've just tried to stay sober
When you've turned into a bittersweet haze

It was nothing more than affair
I still regret
But this thought that I've lost a friend
Hurts me so bad
So bad to be alone
Again
I wait for you to call
To say
That I'm already done
You know
I'm not the only one, oh

Waking up to start over
I wish I could get rid off this mess
I've just tried to feel something
Something more than to be possessed
Waking up to start over
In an attempt just to find my place
I've just tried to stay sober
When you've turned into a bittersweet haze

You're so dope
You're so dope
You're so dope

Waking up to start over
I wish I could get rid off this mess
I've just tried to feel something
Something more than to be possessed
Waking up to start over
In an attempt just to find my place
I've just tried to stay sober
When you've turned into a bittersweet haze