

Memories

Parks, Squares and Alleys

You're walking alone
All this this time that was wasted
All this things helps to grow

And you want to forget him

And how many time left?
But you can't stop crying
'Cause the dreams in your head
Can't be true, you're trying
To remember

He was waiting for you
In the warm rain
You can't believe it was true
Playing in boardgame, walking on alley
Everyday

You can't see all this lights
'Cause you don't, you don't want it
You close your shiny eyes
And you see just what he did

You can't wait anymore
You are tired of waiting
And you hope that he calls
'Cause you want him to say it

He was waiting for you
In the warm rain
You can't believe it was true
Playing in boardgame, walking on alley
Everyday
