

Cemetery Bloom

Parkway Drive

You sweep across the heavens,
An extinction grade event
And carve your name upon the gates
Where angels fear to tread
All hail my

You shine like blood and diamonds,
You sing like breaking glass
You drag them out
Into the street and turn their names to ash
All hail my

You hum like quiet lightning in the eye of a typhoon
A bird of illest omen crowing all impending doom
All hail my

The whisper of unnerving truth
When saner minds depart
You rise like Christ the Savior,
You burn as Joan of Arc
All hail my

You bring the axe upon them with devastating grace
And on their heads,
Forever lay a curse upon their fate
All hail my

My spirit of unhinging force, my avalanche untamed
Bearing down relentlessly on all who dare remain
All hail my

All hail my
My unnatural disaster
All hail my
My kaleidoscopic gloom
All hail my
My karmic equalizer
All hail my
My cemetery bloom