Friends, inquisitive friends Are asking me what's come over me There's been a change (there's been a change) And it's oh so plain to see Love just walked in on me And it's taken me by surprise Happiness surrounds me You can see it in my eyes Now it was just a little while ago My life was life was incomplete I was down so doggone low Had to look up at my feet Don't you know that I just wanna testify What your love has done for me I just wanna testify What your love has done for me Once I was a hollow man In which a lonely heart did dwell You know love came creeping upon me Bringing life to an empty shell Now I heard so many times before That your love could be so bad I just want to tell you people It's the best love I ever had Don't you know that I just wanna testify What your love has done for me I just wanna testify What your love has done for me Ooh, ooh luscious Sure been delicious to me (2x)I just wanna testify What your love has done for me (2x)