Forget You

Parmalee

Don't know who to blame,
I just blame myself did you need somebody else
Someone to hold you like I didn't hold ya should've begged you to stay
Then maybe you wouldn't be gone
And alone wouldn't be what it is right now
But the truth hits like a stone

Cause hearts break every time love gets broke
Can't believe we were so close
Now you're somebody I don't know
And I don't know why I'm Driving by your house just to see
What light's on keepin' my ringer loud
Just in case you might call
Singin' our song coming on like we used to
Doin' everything to forget to forget you
Baby where did we go
I was thinking we were on the same page
I guess somewhere along the way we made some stupid mistakes bu t its' crazy to think it was too late to save

Cause hearts break every time love gets broke
I can't believe we were so close
Now you're somebody I don't know
And I don't know why I'm
Driving by your house just to see what light's on Keepin' my ringer loud just in case you might call
Singin' our song coming on like we used to
Doin' everything to forget to forget you

No I don't wanna let you go
So tell me if there's still hope
That we could be different this time baby now that we know

Hearts break every time love gets broke
I can't believe we were so close
Now you're somebody I don't know
 (I don't know)
And I don't know why I'm
Driving by your house just to see what light's on
Keepin' my ringer loud just in case you might call
Singin' our song coming on like we used to
Doin' everything to forget to forget you
