I'm Tired

Pat Green

We must be headed in the wrong direction 'Cause there's nothin' but pain out there I heard you say somethin' About the cross upon your back The truth is baby life ain't always fair Your whole life is water runnin' down a sidewalk You followed the rocks and the cracks As you crawl cross the ground I ain't seen you smile in so long You must of built a house in the misery you found

But I'm tired I'm tired now Tired of playin' the same old game You got to get yourself together Say to yourself I ain't goin' down this way I ain't goin' down this way But I'm tired

Siftin' through your memories Deep in the ground with the dead Maybe you were high on the top of the cloud With the dragon that lives in your head Maybe you were draggin' your wagon With your thoughts like old wooden toys Maybe you were lookin' for somethin' That you lost when you were a boy

I'm tired I'm tired now Tired of playin' the same old game You got to get yourself together Say to yourself I ain't goin' down this way I ain't goin' down this way

You eat when your hungry You sleep when your sleepy You drink like there's a hole in your soul All of your problems are beggin' to leave But you never want to let them go You never want to let them go

I'm tired I'm tired now Tired of playin' the same old game You got to get yourself together Say to yourself I ain't goin' down this way I ain't goin' down this way

Yeah it's a fine line between livin' it up and losin' it all Yeah it's a fine line between gettin' up and movin' on Yeah it's a fine line between livin' it up and losin' it all Yeah it's a fine line between livin' it up and movin' on If you stay one more day babe Don't you know your going to die Your going to die La la la la yeah yea La la la la yeah yea La la Tištěno z pisnicky-akordy.cz
