

Songs About Texas

Pat Green

I sing songs about Texas,
I sing them often as if she were some old lover,
I used to know,
I wish I could follow them back to the homeland every time I hear one on my radio.
Twin fiddles playing in my memory,
my daddy sang the wonders of old cow town, silver haired and he's still there under a sky so warm and fair
, I tell you friends there's a song in every town.

So sing me one more song about old San Antone, it seems like a dream now it was so long ago, Jerry Jeff Walker can be just like a coat from the cold, I'm goin' home

Well it's nothing short of the gospel hymns,
I guess that's why folks keep writing 'em when I die,
I want to go there too, some day I hope to walk along heaven's street and I'll still be looking for my taco meat and I swear I hear a steel guitar ris ing in the air.

So sing me one more song about old San Antone, it seems like a dream now it was so long ago, and old Guy Clark he can be just like a coat from the cold, well I'm going home.

When the night is real real still,
I swear I could hear a whippoorwill, she knows there's music in the dirt down there, hill country rain is a cleansing thing and all I have to see on e, sitting in a shallow creek got nothing to do.

So sing me one more song about old San Antone, it seems like a
dream now it was so long ago, Jerry Jeff Walker can be just like
a coat from the cold, I'm goin' home

So sing me one more song about those dusty plains, them honky t onk angels, and their lonely beehive pain, wish I was stowed aw ay on some fast moving train going home, yeah I'm going home.
