

While I Was Away

Pat Green

By the time I made it home, you were already in bed
Chubby cheek pressed to your a pillow by a bedtime book you read

And I noticed you looked older than you did yesterday
You've been growing up while I was away

You made a pile of leaves in the front yard, I guess it's already fall

By the look of those pictures your mama took, the two of you had a ball

And It made me glad but a little sad to see those games you played

I missed a lot of smiles while I was away

And for every dollar I earn there's a lesson you learn without me there

And every day I'm on the go, I'm praying that you know your daddy cared

Cause the hardest part about working hard ain't about the bills
I gotta pay

It's you growing up while I was away

And I found your note in the kitchen, it's a real work of art
A stick man holding your stick hand with "Daddy" written in a heart

And it got me good cause I've understood what you meant to say
You've been missing me too while I was away

And for every dollar I earn there's a lesson you learn without me there

And every day I'm on the go, I'm praying that you know your daddy cared

Cause the hardest part about working hard ain't about the bills
I gotta pay

It's you growing up while I was away

You know the hardest part about working hard ain't the bills I gotta pay

It's everything I missed while I was away.
