Let It Go

Pati Yang

On the day you said you're lost. Did you just sit down and die?
'cause no one heard you make a noise. If I knew, would I walk b y?
And you wonder, why on earth. Were you put into this test...

Let it go. It's the truth knocking. On your door Let it go. Shouldn't have to hurt. This much To be happy

It's a been decided long ago. That I was put on your way
I was meant to take control. Hold you when you seemed too frail
And now I wonder why on earth. Was I put into this test

Let me go, 'cause my heart's cracking when you walk over me, it shouldn't have to hurt it shouldn't have to hurt this much, to be happy just to be...
