

I just had a word with my forefathers
They said this would hit you hard like firecrackers
Black truth, coming from a black root
We have to go back to black, we have to put black on track
Wahyahsay

Black sold black, black scold black
Too many lies, black told black
Moving forward in life, black hold back
Black hates black, black don't rate black
Black underrates black, even some black don't wanna see some black people de y black
Black beat black, black hit black
Black cheats black, black maltreats black
Black kill black (yes), black don't feel black
When black give black, black want to steal back
Black don't support black, black extort black
Black deports black, black reports black
Black snitch black, black bewitch black
Black don't enrich black, good will, black never wish black
Black don't appreciate black, black never tolerates black
Black relegates black, that's why black currencies depreciate back
Black deceive black, black don't believe black
Black religion, black division
Lies they feed on, blocks the vision
Me do this for the next generation of black
Let my music be the truth and penetration for black
Love is the answer to the elevation of black
This new mentality, we need a new motivation for black
Black leaders you don't need to to have a bad mind
You travel abroad, you see good roads and airport, you come back and act bli nd
Clean water, good food, we can't find
Blackness, black richness, black excellence, black love
And black mind, that's what we want

No no no no, no love, no love
No love, no love
No no no no, no love, no love
No love, no love
No no no no, no love, no love
No love, no love
No no no no, no love, no love
No love, no love

Freedom, freedom (freedom, freedom, freedom)
Freedom, freedom
All I want is freedom, freedom (freedom, freedom, freedom)
Freedom, freedom huh

Black hating black is the reason why the growth is taunt
If I don't love you as my brother, what else do I want
Every black must have each other's back if they wanna be in front
Now let's rewrite the black love in a bold font
That's what we want, one love
