

Everything's Changed

Patty Griffin

Everything in the world has changed
Everything in the world has changed
Find someone who knows your name
So hot and bright and loud and strange

Wind came knocking in the night
Wind came knocking in the night
Home is just a satellite
Wind came knocking in the night

There ain't nothing coming down the muddy river
Just an oil slick and the smell of fear
I heard strange music coming down the muddy river
The last night before these years
