

Jealous Lady

Paul Anka

He's stroking you down with that look in his eyes
When he's around I'm a hawk in the sky
You'll feel the same way (like) meeting someone I knew
Jealous lady I'm just as jealous as you

What's that about him that I'll never be
I'm honest with you so be honest with me
I'm caught in a trap and there's nothing much I can do
Jealous lady I'm just as jealous as you

I feel like a fool, but not very smart
Losing my mind, led by my heart
You break every rule and you're hurting inside
You feel like you're just wanna hide

Talking it over can solve many things
Silence is foolish what good does it bring
It isn't uncommon the changes that we're going through
Jealous lady I'm just as jealous as you

I feel like a fool, I'm not very smart
Losing my mind, led by my heart
You break every rule and you're hurting inside
You feel like you're just wanna hide

Remember the woman I spoke to last night
The woman you told me who got you uptight
The table has turned and this time it's me asking you
Jealous lady I'm just as jealous as you
Jealous lady I'm just as jealous as you
Jealous lady I'm just as jealous as you
