

You and Me Today

Paul Anka

There may be other roads for me
But they all lead back to you
There may be other sights to see
But you're still my favorite, you

Nothing replaces the real thing
The movie's not like the play
Nothing replaces a day of spring
When you're young and free
Like you and me
Today

Other rides may meet with mine
But none see what you see
Other words may touch my mind
But none get through to me

Nothing replaces the real thing
No place like home, they say
Nothing replaces the song to sing
When you're young and free
Like you and me
Today