

Everybody Wants to Touch Me

Paul Kelly

Everybody wants to touch me
Everybody wants a feel
Everybody wants a piece of something that's real

Everybody wants to touch me
They all love my skin
They all want to take me home
They don't even care where I've been

Everybody wants to touch me
Everybody wants a little pat
They can't wait to tell their friends
How they had themselves a piece of that

Everybody wants to touch me
Everybody wants to touch me
Everybody wants to touch me
Everybody wants to touch me

Everybody's lost their manners
Everybody's in a rush
One starts to push, another starts to shove
Then they all get caught in the crush

Everybody wants to touch me
Everybody wants a slice
Everybody wants to touch me
Want a little magic in their lives
