

Mistic

Paul van Dyk

I love you, and always will love you my one and only girl

Somehow i felt happy when i see you smile,
Something tells me that you are worth while,
You are worth every second of my life,
And someday you will become my wife,
But until that day,
Those words i may not say,
But all i can say is,

I love you, and always will love you my one and only girl

Whatever it takes, i well make you mine,
At yet, love, is still meant to be undefined,
I may not know much or even a lot,
But my whole heart to you is all i got,
I cherish my soul to this very one girl,
Which to me is worth more than the 18th century king's pearl,
I love you

I love you, and always will love you my one and only girl
