

I Know Where You Sleep

Paw

When I was a boy
Hey, I thought that souls should help
That god was a bible friend (?)
Hey, where will you be in the end?
You filled me with your words
You shake my hand

But I know where you sleep
Yeah, that's not an idle threat
Well, I know where you sleep
Just when you rest your head

So go on and rest your head
And close your narrow eyes
The damage has been done
Yeah, you cut me, down to size
Well, I'm still on my feet
You're never gonna get what you want from me

But I know where you sleep
Yeah, that's not an idle threat
And I know where you sleep
Just when you rest your head

Yeah, I know
And you can't stop me
And I know
That you're gonna try
Well, say goodbye
To all the little things you keep
Because I know
I know where you sleep
And I plan
And you may think I'm fussy
You make me a nothing man
Sure you go on thinking that
You're a child lost in his box of sand
Sure, stop me
If you can

But I know where you sleep
Yeah, that's not an idle threat
Well, I know where you sleep
Just when you rest your head

Your move
You're afraid
Stop me
Well, I know
You're gonna try
Say good bye
Say good bye
Say good bye
