

Butterfly Soars

Pay money To my Pain

You need to realize (you never listen)
That's why you make enemies (you hide behind a mask)

She fights for you, tells you now you have to change your mind she'll be your wings don't let go

Butterfly flies
she soars across the sky she carries all our dreams but the world has turned away

Butterfly's high
high up in the sky
out of reach and sight
where no one's ever tried

Butterfly falls
she doesn't have her wings she believes she still can fly still no one looks her way

Butterfly's alone
nobody understands
why she wants to try and fly

Have you ever thought, what is life (I'll think you'll say you have) so tell me what it means to you (you have no clue)

you lie too much act like a good guy stop that I know sick of your bullshit

Your life is misery but I don't give a shit you brought it on yourself kiss my ass

Butterfly flies
but the world has turned away

Butterfly's high,

Butterfly wants to show them how to fly again so people realize that their dreams'll never fade and butterfly flies That's why she's never givin up
