

Something Special

Pearl Jam

If you could see what I see now
You gotta know
I'm looking up, oh, so proud
The one I used to hold is, oh, so special
Mm, and every setback now
But a chance to grow
If further proof that you're phenomenal
You better believe it that you are something special
Whoa, oh, whoa

Afraid to fail
Oh, same as afraid to try
These are the days
To accept all the invites
'Cause you're so cool and, baby, on the level

Oh, and someday you
May find yourself in the place that I now do
And someday you, yeah
You're gonna have to let it go, whoa, oh
And I got proof
'Cause my heart, it aches and breaks
But I believe in you
It's the truth

And it's okay, should this life knock you down
The twisted wheel, you know it keeps on spinning 'round
Bet on yourself, your number's, oh, so special
Mm, and when it gets fucked up
You need a helping hand
Do it yourself
You're not the type to need a man
But if you find one, he better know you're damn special

Oh, and someday you
May find yourself in the place that I now do
And someday you
Gonna have to let it go
And I got proof
For my heart, it aches and breaks
But I believe in you
Whoa, ain't it
Oh, ain't it the truth?

Mm, remind yourself and find what makes you free
It's goal to go and time to find out what you seek
And in between, avoid the devil
Oh, and if the night grows long
You're not feeling loved
I will be there
And not 'cause it's my job
I work for free because you're both so special

Oh, ain't it
Oh, ain't it the truth?
We believe, believe, believe in you
We all got something

We all got something to prove
Oh, out of everyone
You're not just anyone
You're the one and only you
We done
All we can do
