

That's Alright Honey

Peggy Lee

You did me wrong but that's alright honey, honey
You did me wrong but that's alright honey, honey
You did me wrong I realize but you turned right around and apologized
You did me wrong but that's alright honey, honey

You left me for a long, long time honey, honey
You left me for a long, long time honey, honey
You left me for a long, long time but you came running back to these arms of mine
You did me wrong but that's alright honey, honey

I was mad at you before but I ain't mad at you no more
I ain't gonna ask you how you've been
I'm just so glad that you're home again
You did me wrong but that's alright honey, honey
You did me wrong but that's alright honey, honey
You did me wrong but that's alright
Your love's too strong for my heart to fight
You did me wrong but that's alright honey, honey

You did me wrong but that's alright honey, honey
You did me wrong but that's alright honey, honey
You did me wrong but that's alright
Your love's too strong for my heart to fight
You did me wrong but that's alright
Cause I love you with all my might
You did me wrong but that's alright my honey
