

While We're Young

Peggy Lee

Songs were meant to sing while we're young
Every day is spring while we're young
None can refuse, time flies so fast
Too dear to lose, and too sweet to last
Though it may be just for today
Share our love we must, while we may
How blue the sky, all sweet surprise
Shines before our eyes while we're young
How blue the sky, all sweet surprise
Shines before our eyes while we're young
