

Stranger

Peking Duk

Keep me calling my brain
We gon' be okay
It's summertime no sober time again
Burning out on the train
And get off in the rain
When the sun shines with a song we rise again

Walking home on a silent street
I just met you and you good company
So comfort me
And the sirens ring in the distance
Like a lullaby song singing us to sleep
For us to keep

Oh when will I see you now
Stranger could you walk me home
Even if we drift somehow
No I, I'm never gonna sleep alone

Never gonna sleep alone

Calling out to the wolves
Can you pull us through
To the other side of another world with you
Where the night is key and the rebels sing
Our battle cry we never die we win

Walking home on a silent street
I just met you and you good company
So comfort me
And the sirens ring in the distance
Like a lullaby song singing us to sleep
For us to keep

Oh when will I see you now
Stranger could you walk me home
Even if we drift somehow
No I, I'm never gonna sleep alone
Never gonna sleep alone
Never gonna sleep alone
I'm never gonna sleep alone

When will I see you now
Stranger could you walk me home
