

Basic Beach

Pell

I waded in, then started swimming Rolling so deep I'm defying limits Side eyes from the guys tryna cuff they women
But I don't want your girl brother I'm too ambitious I could share my towel with ya girl right now I got a barracuda that could fit in her Bermuda Probably leave her strung out on my young frank Lucas But something smells fishy and the waters full of groupers
They saying you my Pell don't forget me, get me
But they never took the time to find a nigga history, is he tha t bad?
Nah not really
I just know my worth, and a shone ain't worth a penny But some be too fine, they make me think twice, like really thi nk twice, like they could be mine But I'm kidding, there's too many fish, and I'm tryna go swimmi ng

Never bring sand to the beach, when you never even seen that sh ore There's plenty more fish in the sea, so why would I swim with y ours
I tell her what it is, she respect it because it's me, and I'ma swim in it talking ten feet deep Ain't nobody gotta know, we just keep it low-key
But if they ask if that's me, I look back like Yeah, yeah, yeah

Ma I get it in, but never been a player Fisherman Pell so sometimes I just filet em Keep em guessing where I'm staying unless they known the kid fr om day one Taking slim bait leaving whales inside the ocean (I'm lying) Jameson in my gills got me drunk in love
But it Only last a minute or until I bust 16 when my uncle took me fishing, but little did I know id hook the prettiest of women (for real) Now I'm in my twenties and my lines the cause of interest Now I'm tossing shells at my fucking competition Saving sand dollars just to throw em at the women Definition of a feel good living In the waves all night
I could stay all night
Just for one my type
But until I find her I'm a keep swimming

Never bring sand to the beach, when you never even seen that sh ore

There's plenty more fish in the sea, so why would I swim with y
ours
I tell her what it is, she respect it because it's me, and I'ma
swim in it talking ten feet deep
Ain't nobody gotta know, we just keep it low-key
But if they ask if that's me, I look back like Yeah, yeah, yeah