Turn my headphones up
Just to say I love you, doesn't mean I should trust you (Wow)
How the hell we turn each other on, but still can't get along?
Long ass time since I been in this marathon

Ended up in LA, mixed it up with Avalon
I think I should call it quits with crazy shit she on
But I ain't never seen shit so, I still tag along
When I get too manic I just end up making songs

I always do wrong before I do right
Drunk at 2AM with without an alibi
I hit your phone
Say come over bae when ever you like
You got a nigga running back like I left something
Got me on the flight like the Jetsons
Bougie you don't fly South Western
But you clam you ride of die like a Vespa (vroom, vroom)

So imma buy a ticket just to see what's up
And just because I did it doesn't mean it's love
But I got you anytime I that you need

Just to say I love you, doesn't meant I should trust you
How the hell we turn each other on, but still can't get along?
Long ass time since I been in this marathon
Just to say I love you, doesn't mean I should trust you
How the hell we turn each other on, but still can't get along?
Long ass time since I been in this marathon

I always do wrong before I do right
Drunk at 2AM with without an alibi
I hit your phone
Say come over bae when ever you like
Now, I know it sounds real bad and I might regret it
But, you the best I ever had and I must confess it
She don't wanna be anything
If you fuck me like that then imma need me a wedding ring
I pulled up real sloppy, fucking, sucking on Henny-thing
Kissing on your breast while I fuck you is my favorite thing
I know you a mess but love you though many things
Pussy like that make man on everything (Really, on everything?)
Now I ain't with the chit chat

When you spat on my name, I wasn't with that
I see you playing these games, it's a miss-match
And I gotta be honest you gon' regret that
You gon' regret that

Just to say I love you, doesn't mean I should trust you
How the hell we turn each other on, but still can't get along?
Long ass time since I been in this marathon
