

Raina Talks Luv (Interlude)

Pell

Love... What is love? I feel like love is... Love is the things that aren't at the center of your mind. Love is the things that usually to me go off base with almost everything you've ever believed. Love shows you new things, love shows you new perspective. But first, for love to do that it has to bring up almost every fear that you've ever had. Love digs out the old to bring in the new, and I feel like without that understanding there is no... no real love...
