360 Degrees

Pendragon

Joey said you're sat in George's chair
I wouldn't know ‘cos I wasn't there
He drank his ale, got up on his knees
Fell down drunk land lovers' disease
Everything is blue everything is green
Everything you see 360 degrees

Here I stand, I climb that hill
I fell to my knees, I took that pill
I looked out to sea wishing I was there
Feeling rather ill but walking on air
Everything is green and everything is blue
Everything you see 360 degrees

The wind and rain and sleet in my face
Five foot of mud up to my waist

Deep sea fishing for the mackerel of life
Searching for the sampol 360 degrees

I'm up to my knees in sea and breeze
I don't care if I've got seaweed for my hair
Everything is green and everything is blue
Everything you see 360 degrees

360 degrees the life on the high seas
On the rocks in the rain
360 degrees…
Everything is green and everything is blue
Everything you see 360 degrees…

All aboard the carpe diem
Love over fear well I mean of course it's disgusting
What, no beans?
