

Guiding Lights

Pendulum

Oh, I was such a fool
I let him go on
Even after I knew he was crazy

We used to walk together, chasing the dream
Making a scene, be the best you can be
Two years, I should've known
Losing a friend is losing a home

How does it feel
To know you're hated by those you believed in?
To know that I hope you choke?

It's the way you get into my head
Guiding lights, I don't know where you've been
The other day, I was wishing you were dead
Now there's sights I wish you could have seen
Waste no time arguing with a liar
Now you're down with nowhere left to go
Ten years go straight into the fire

We used to know each other, closer for a while
Gave you a chance, she'll go the extra mile
Self-doubt and fear till the end
Nailed yourself to the cross yet again

How does it feel
To wake up and wonder why everyone left you?
To know that you fucked yourself?

It's the way you get into my head
Guiding lights, I don't know where you've been
The other day, I was wishing you were dead
Now there's sights I wish you could have seen
Waste no time arguing with a liar
Ten years go straight into the fire

Sharp little tongue, scars I adore
Twenty-five stitches, I bleed no more
Sharp little tongue, scars I adore
Twenty-five stitches
Sharp little tongue, scars I adore
Twenty-five stitches, I bleed no more
Sharp little tongue, scars I adore
Twenty-five stitches

Sharp little tongue, scars I adore
Twenty-five stitches, I bleed no more
Sharp little tongue, scars I adore
Twenty-five stitches, I bleed no more
Sharp little tongue, scars I adore
Twenty-five stitches, I bleed no more
Sharp little tongue, scars I adore
Twenty-five stitches

I bleed no more
