

Jeopardy

Penny & Sparrow

In the jeopardy dream
I'm on a roll, I control the board
Daily doubles galore
All of them true, running up the score
I answer them all
Who is your mother?
What is the Fall?
What is Lake Austin, knee deep in June?
What is me dying, before you do?

I know you, in a way I know nothing else

When I wake up you're gone, your side is warm so it ain't been long
I can hear you out there, you're looking for keys in your under wear
And if I get up you'll say well look who decided to show
And I know I'll find em, somewhere on some shelf

I know you, in a way I know nothing else
In a way I know nothing else
In a way I know nothing else
