Falling Down

Pennywise

Falling Down everday to where I can't be found Left like some wreckage that's been shot down over sacred ground Can't find a place for refuge safe exits slip away No chance for my redemption stumbling towards an early grave

Falling everday
farther all the time
Searching for something there something i can never find Falling everday
farther all the time
something i can never find

Without a sound the silence waits keeps pulling me back down
I push against it but there is no use I can't stop now No place I can hold to how much further can i go Sliding down into the darkness waiting for the fatal blow
