

Earth Flight

Pentagram

Sometimes the way you neglect things
Brings me to the finish of the rope
I let some of them slide
But there's some I just can't hide
And maybe soon you'll see
That my words ain't no joke
You know I'll drive you if you make me
After all's been said
You'll never dump my thunder cloud
Hanging on your head
Look out when my caution light
Flickers up to red
You think it's bad just out of work
Well, it's probably worse dead
Now everything's fine if it revolves around you
And although times have to change
In you there's nothing new
While some get high, pursue their joys
Fly into the night
It's time to see your plane will crash
You're on the earth flight
