

Eerie Shelter

Penumbra

I'm haunted by something
I'm not really able to define
Within the light, a call, it's so divine
And his eyes in front of me are like
And my soul just fights to know
Take care of the lives you take
They give a sense to your existence
I feel your anger, your betrayal
Don't close your eyes in this way
Get away and run away, power is a prison
Like cyanide through your veins
It burns you forever... Forever and ever

I want to know if the end is near
Though i will feel myself with their hidden fears
And do the only souls i can breed
Show me the key pf what i am vowed to be

Who will know what i have to see?
What your really want from me?
Within the light a void is inviting me now
Who else can hear my call?

They will try to have you fall
Like no one else they all envy you
Thay wantto leave your burnt soul
In this garden of vices
Get away and run away
Go straight never come back
You'r eentirelyin their hands
It burns you forever... Forever and ever
I want to know if the end is near
Though i will feel myself with their hidden fears
And do the only souls i can breed
Show me the key of what i am vowed to be

This is what they want
So pure so bright
Here is such a frost
So sad
They talk about you
In immortal soul
You'll seek safety
Keep your human life
Maybe it will save you
The keeper told you're inmortal
Why do you think i give you this choice?
Far away from your deepest desires
Trying to light off the cnadle and wish me to die

Do you feel the tears on your lips
It's your heart that you condemned
Far away from your deepest desires
Ride alone into the night

Far away from all these shores
A thousand candles on the floor

Crimson silk and velvet tense
The candle's keeper awaits me there
All these lights for all these lives
They took my fate, erase my past
Who is this strange icon i see
Behind the veil of tragedy?
