

Fly's Eye

Pere Ubu

Maybe it's in the moonlight,
or maybe it's in the headlights,
but the driver of the car's still your man in the moon
and the guy at his side was your brother Bill.
They was howlin at the world from the top of the hill.
They was howlin at the world from the top of a hill.

Tonight, I can them in your eyes
like I saw it in a dream.
I can them in your eyes...
Baby, you better come inside cuz the driver of the car's still the man in the moon
and the guy at his side is your brother Bill.
They was howlin at the world from the top of the hill.
They was howlin at the world from the top of a hill.

In the halo of the evening
where the kitchen meets the nighttime,
at the screen who's it standing there?
Hey baby, you're lettin all the bugs in!
The driver of the car's still the man in the moon
and the guy at his side is your brother Bill.
They was howlin at the world from the top of a hill.
They was howlin at the world from the top of the hill.
