

With or without a choice to confront every vice without a voice don't deny your will to live is shattered and your hope is a ja ded lie
the quality within will shape the path we choose

All this time to call the things they did a lie keep it to yourself so I can shove the dark aside and I wont ha ve to tear the honesty from everything we used to be again

The quality within will shape the path we choose the quality we loose will form the grave we use

Legions are sent from the negative elite sucking life from the world we live shading the knowledge of oneness and feeding the shadow within the abyss found internally strength to change our misery

Shining light carves the way for their demise dissecting the patterns in our own lives to sift love from expe rience
remember why we have come

Silently ascending heeding the universal call as we grow the shadow cast is nearing its retreat we are now in the time of the fall
