

Break Out Break Free

Perkele

We believe that we're rebels to the bone
Are we really thinking for ourselves
And we love to judge everyone
When we're just like everybody else

We're so sure that we're right and they are wrong
In a bubble full of narrowness
We believe that together we are strong
In a cluster full of loneliness

It's time that we start to think for ourselves
Break out break free for liberation
That we start to think for ourselves
Break out break free from our chains

We believe that we're rebels to the bone
Are we really thinking for ourselves
And we love to judge everyone
When we're just like everybody else

We're so sure that we're right and they are wrong
In a bubble full of narrowness
We believe that together we are strong
In a cluster full of loneliness
