

When You're Dead

Perkele

Since he was a little boy
No one seemed to care about him
The boy was all alone
And no one talked to him
The day he became 24 he disappeared
And no one cared
It started to smell in a couple of months
Found him hanging in his flat

Then the competition begun
About who was his closest friend

Everyone loves you when you are dead
Do you really care when you're
Six feet under the ground?

Since the day they found him dead
Everyone seems to care
They tell each other they are so sad
Don't even knew his name
You feel so bad because you did not care
But now it is too late
Face the fact you did not like him
I promise he don't care anymore

Still the competition begins
About who was his closest friend
