

Pushing Up Daisies

Perrie

I remember when we used to all play spin the bottle
Now it's falling out with someone, then get your heart broke
Yeah, I miss the days where there was no plans tomorrow
Now the week days are work, weekends are just finding trends to follow
It's so shallow

But what if I just stopped giving up?
What if I live it up?
Day drinking, being ride or die
Give me time
What if I just stopped feeling sad?
Gave it everything I had
Never say the right thing
But sometimes right is wrong

I don't care what they say
I do what I want, call me crazy, yeah
And I know that it will stop someday
But I wanna live young till I'm pushing up daisies
Building it up, self made
Every day the world changes, yeah
Don't you worry 'bout me
I wanna live young till I'm pushing up daisies

Pushing up daisies
Pushing up daisies

I remember when we used to stay up late till all hours
Now I'm so stressed out, it's a wonder how all of my hair don't fall out
Yeah, I miss those times back seat of the car having the window rolled down
(Oh)
Now we're in a car heading to a job we don't even want
Thinking we should stop
I wanna be a queen, not a worker bee, but that's me

So what if I just stopped giving up?
What if I live it up?
Day drinking, being ride or die
Give me time
What if I just stopped feeling sad?
Gave it everything I had
Never say the right thing
But sometimes right is wrong

I don't care what they say
I do what I want, call me crazy, yeah
And I know that it will stop someday
But I wanna live young till I'm pushing up daisies
Building it up, self made
Every day the world changes, yeah
Don't you worry 'bout me
I wanna live young till I'm pushing up daisies

Pushing up daisies
Pushing up daisies

In my mind [?]

Tryna touch the skyline
Cover up the wounds inside
I feel like
This could be the moment
When I become unbroken
But I will fly to get by
Till I'm pushing up daisies

Oh-woah
Pushing up daisies (Oh yeah)
Pushing up daisies (Yeah)
Pushing up daisies (Pushing up daisies)
I wanna live young till I'm pushing up daisies
