

Rocket Scientist

Perrie

Yeah, you got me wrapped up in your science fiction
Saying our hearts are meant to be this way
Yeah, yeah
Telling me I'm safe in a burning building
Look in my eyes and swear that it's okay
Yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah

I can't act like nothing's wrong
Ain't no comfort in your arms

It doesn't take a rocket scientist
Just to know that love shouldn't hurt like this
I don't have to hold it in my fist
Just to know the pain that I feel exists
No, I don't need love like this

Baby, it's a long shot being optimistic
Rolling these dice like I've never won before
Oh-oh
Oh-oh
But it's better than living in a contradiction
All of these nights I long for something more
Oh-oh
Oh-oh

I can't act like it's okay
There's no more home inside this place

It doesn't take a rocket scientist
Just to know that love shouldn't hurt like this
I don't have to hold it in my fist
Just to know the pain that I feel exists

No, I don't need love like this
No, I don't need love like this
No, I don't need love like this
No, I don't need love like this

It doesn't take a rocket scientist
Just to know that love shouldn't hurt like this
I don't have to hold it in my fist
Just to know the pain that I feel exists

No, I don't need love like this
No, I don't need love like this
No, I don't need love like this
No, I don't need love like this

No, I don't need love like this
