

Look To Your Heart

Perry Como

Look to your heart
When there are words to say,
And never leave your love unspoken.
Day by day, we go our thoughtless way,
And only when we pray,
Do we remember those we love!

Too late we found,
A word that's warm and kind,
Is more than just a passing token.

Speak your love,
To those who seek your love,
Look to Your Heart,
Your heart will know what to say,
Look to Your Heart,
Today!
