

The Curse Unbound

Persuader

Once I felt the fear in my dreams
The ones he sent for me
Disguised her fallen face and twisting and turning my mind

Bow down, your will's to be broken
You dressed your world in blood
Welcome the darkness and enter a world of gloom

Far from the endless ways I turn and walk astray
Gods from the other side aren't dead but dreaming

Lay down, just let yourself go
At last the vision becomes much clearer
Dreams so silently slip through my hands drifting on and away
How will I end this? I have to break free
(All alone I dream of you) Inside my nightmare

And then the darkness takes me, I fly away
Far from home I've found myself all alone in the dark
Oh, father release me from this curse unbound
Enslaved in eternity

And as my soul succumbs
It's a dream and I still believe that nothing lasts
And endless sorrow returned

Far from the endless ways I turn and walk away
Gods from the other side aren't dead but dreaming

Lay down, just let yourself go
At last the vision becomes much clearer
Dreams so silently slip through my hands drifting on and away
How will I end this? I have to break free again

Remember my name, my friend
My fate is now in your hand
My secret kept in his heart, my true name

And then the darkness takes me, I fly away
Far from home I've found myself all alone in the dark
Oh, father release me from this curse unbound
Enslaved in eternity

Bow before me now, apprentice of the dark
Twelve black ravens heed the master's call
Fly into the night and return until the dawn
Cursed by the master's hand, the new moon calls again

And then darkness takes me, I fly away
Far from home I've found myself all alone in the dark
Oh, father release me from this curse unbound
Enslaved in eternity
