

Riders of Heaven Part 1

Pertness

Behind the sun behind the sky far away from here

Behind the black behind the stars
out in endless space

There is a place where I come from I had to go away
But now there is no place for me just death is everywhere

Travelling into the hole of time beneath heaven and the stars seek the key of eternal live grey twilight soon will come

Arise now, arise now, riders of heaven once the wind of death will blow Arise now, arise now, riders of heaven
before the evil can grow

Through space and time in loneliness
I travelled through the dark

I passed the sun
I passed the moon and that's when I found you

But I don't know how long I'll stay until I have to go because your home will fade away and the wind of death will blow
