

Home To Me

Pete Murray

I was trying to think of who I was just the other day
Before you fell into my life and stole my heart away
I didn't know who you were, but you came and changed the game
And the rest they say now is history

Don't matter where we are or where we're gonna to be
If we're apart, you're the missing piece
There's one thing you should know and one thing you gotta believe
Honey, you're always home to me

I still remember our first kiss at your mother's place
You couldn't take away my smile from your sweet embrace
I felt so high the day you came and changed my life
Do you even really know what you did to me?

Don't matter where we are or where we're gonna to be
If we're apart you're the missing piece
There's one thing you should know and one thing you gotta believe
Honey, you're always home to me

If you fall I'll be your break
And if you call, just know that I won't be too far away

Don't matter where we are or where we're gonna to be
If we're apart, you're the missing piece
There's one thing you should know and one thing you gotta believe
Honey, you're always home to me

Honey, you're always home to me
